A Prayer for Priests

Lord our God, You guide your people by the ministry of priests.

By Your grace, keep them faithful in obedient service to You and Your Church.

Keep them united to Yourself by a love that will never end.

By their life and ministry, may they bring You glory. Amen

COME, HOLY SPIRIT

When we hear “Come, Holy Spirit” we think of today’s story from Acts. But the truth is that today’s scene is but one moment from the Spirit’s long presence in salvation. The spirit of God (ruach) is present at the dawn of creation, blowing over the chaotic waters as God commands light to be. That same spirit of God filled the prophets of Israel. “The spirit of the Lord came upon me” fills their witness, as they guided Israel in their quest to be faithful to the loving, merciful God of their covenant. We hear that the Spirit overshadowed Mary’s womb so that the very Word of God would take on our human flesh. And Jesus begins his ministry in Luke’s Gospel by saying the Spirit is upon him. On the cross, according to John, he gives up his spirit. Today Paul tells us that this Holy Spirit is from God, who raised Christ from the dead. We also hear John’s account of the Spirit as the very breath of the risen Christ on his disciples.

That same Spirit of all these biblical accounts was there at our baptism and continues to live in us. We are temples of that Spirit, witnesses to the Spirit’s grace. And it is in the Holy Spirit that we will continue to live in the gospel’s light, and to pursue our life of eternal glory in Christ. © Copyright, J. S. Paluch Co.

SAINT PHILIP NERI (1515-1595)

May 26

In a shop near the Vatican, a group of Americans laughed as the shopkeeper showed off his fluent English and latest souvenir, a key ring whose papal portrait, when pressed, activated a recorded blessing. Through the shop window, two clerics scowled disapproval. The shopkeeper grunted, “They’re a very somber order who’ve left the Church. I recognize them.” “By their long robes?” an American asked. “Many in Rome wear robes,” replied the shopkeeper. “It’s their long faces!” When Philip Neri arrived in sixteenth-century Rome, there was reason to be somber. Swiss Guards had been massacred on Saint Peter’s steps defending the pope. Parts of Europe were abandoning the Church. But Philip resolved to be an “Apostle of Joy,” drawing especially the young to Christ—and frequent confession and Communion—by his sincere interest in their problems, prayerful example, and gentle humor. His “Oratory,” a movement as well as a place, provided recreation and devotion in a joyful atmosphere of companionship, service, and liturgy. Philip Neri challenges each of us to begin improving Church and world by changing ourselves with unflinching joy.

From the Pastor’s Desk

Pentecost Sunday

This Sunday we honor our graduates. Pentecost Sunday – how appropriate since it was sort of the “graduation” of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ. Notice that their graduation was not the end of something, but the culmination of all that the Lord taught them by word and example. They were sent forth to complete his mission with the grace and power of the Holy Spirit. Christian mission and vocation has its source in the awesome fact that God himself created each of us individually and gave us the very life we live. One day we will have to give an account of our life, like the steward in the gospels who had to give an account of his work to his master. One of the easiest ways of determining the success of our Christian mission and vocation is the world around us. Is it getting better, or worse? Do people love God more, or less? Are our families getting stronger, or weaker? Is our future brighter, or darker? God sent forth his Spirit to renew the face of the earth, but is it his Spirit that leads us and guides us? I guess we will all find out, one way or another. I pray for our graduates with profound hope that they will embrace their Christian mission and vocation as they set out on their own life’s journey.

Yours in Christ,

Fr. Bill

From the President's Desk . . .

This is a fun, active time of year for all of students, families, and staff, as students at all grade levels celebrate the achievements of the past year and enjoy their final weeks of school together. You will see many end-of-the-year celebrations listed in our events section, following this message.

As I write, we are looking forward to celebrating with you at the Annual McDonell Alumni Banquet on the evening of May 22. Hats off to our newest McDonell Hall of Fame inductees: Tom Voitl ('67), George Frederick, Eugene Krhin, Gerald Schaefer, Chris (Boos) Opsal ('89), coach Peter Donndelinger, and William Patterson ('58). And congratulations to our graduating Class of 2010, who are now all members of the Alumni Association!

Announcing our most recent Seniors of the Week: ... Wai-Shan Chan, daughter of Kwok Hong Chan and Heung-Kwan Luk, hosted by Harley and Rosemary Haley. Wai-Shan was selected by the Science faculty and will be attending Arizona State University next year. ... Brendan Girard, son of Timothy and Lone Girard. Brendan was selected for distinguished Christian Service and will enter the United States Army Military Police after graduation. ... Alex Hiess, son of Jason and Kellie Hiess. Jason was selected by the English Department and will attend the College St. Scholastica, majoring in Physical Therapy and also playing for their football team. ... All best wishes to our seniors and their families as they prepare for graduation and bright futures after high school.

For college-bound seniors & their families:

The Wisconsin Catholic Campus Ministry Association invites you to connect with your future college's Catholic campus ministry program before arriving on campus next fall. Please visit www.goingtocollege.org, where students and families can sign up to receive information about campus ministry at their prospective Wisconsin schools along with an invitation to get involved. The college years are an important time for faith development. Don't miss out on the opportunity to meet great people and experience the prayer, service, and social events that campus ministry offers!

And now ... off to the very busy week ahead of us. This week we pray especially for our students at all grade levels, that they may enjoy the final weeks of school year together, remain strong in the Catholic faith, and return safely to their schools after enjoying the beauty of summer.

In Christ, Dr. Chad Ronnander, President
